RAJKOT CITY GETS KGBV HOSTEL

Rupani inaugurates 6 classrooms in school where he studied

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
RAJKOT, AUGUST 1

CHIEF MINISTER Vijay Rupani on Sunday inaugurated six additional classrooms in the primary school where he studied, along with a hostel building for Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalaya (KGBV), in Rajkot on Sunday.

With this, Rajkot becomes the second city in the state after Vadodara to have a KGBV hostel, the central government programme aimed at reducing dropout of girl students, primarily in rural areas. However, the KGBVs in Rajkot city and Vadodara are fully funded by the state government.

Through video-conferencing, Rupani inaugurated the new classrooms in Smt JayalakshmiJatashankar Pathak Primary School No.19 on Sardarnagar Main Road and inaugurated the newly-constructed KGBV hostel building on the campus of the same school, where he enrolled as a Class 4 student in 1963 and attended school till 1965.

KGBV residential schools are aimed at ensuring that girls who have single parent, or are orphans or whose parents are economically weak, do not dropout of schools, officials said, adding preference is being given to students from Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes (OBC).

Addressing the ceremony through video-conferencing, Rupani said the state government was committed to ensure education for all. "The government has allotted Rs 31,000 crore in the budget in the current year. Education is the foundation of the progress of the society. The government lays emphasis on quality of education and value-based education," the CM said.

Rupani said that he was dedicating to public 1,000 additional rooms constructed in schools in the state as well as 12,000 smart classrooms. "By setting up smart classes in remote villages and providing them with internet..., Gujarat leads in modernisation of education. We are going towards establishing schools of excellence that would prepare our youth to meet any challenges," the CM said.

The residential schools under the Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan (SSA) of the central government provide education to girls from Classes 6 to 12 in rural areas where literacy rate of women is low and dropout if girls is high. The Centre provides 60 per cent funds for such schools, while respective state governments contribute the remaining 40 per cent.

"The government has decided to test this model in urban areas so that girls who are orphans, or have single parent, or come from very poor families get chance to get education," said Aarti Sheth, girls education officer for Rajkot district unit of SSA.

The KGBV for Rajkot city has been functioning from School No.5 of the Rajkot Municipal School Board. "From today, the hostel shifts to the new building on the campus of School No.19. The hostel has 10 dormitories that can accommodate 100 students. As of now, we have the approval to admit 50 students," said Kirtisinh Parmar, administrative officer (AO) of Rajkot Municipal School Board. "Girls from Rajkot city and surrounding areas will be enrolled in this KGBV," said Atul Pandya, Atul Pandit, chairman of Rajkot school board, adding, "The classrooms of School No.19 have been constructed at the cost of Rs 34 lakh and the hostel building has been constructed at the cost of 1.38 crore."

With this, the number of classrooms in the school with 165 students has gone up to nine. There are around 245 KGBVs in Gujarat. Of them, around 80 are funded by the state government while the rest are funded by the Central government.

Rajkot district has four KGBVs — on each in Jasdan and Vinchhiya funded by the Central government, and one each in Vinagar and Rajkot city funded by the state government.
